at Middleport Pottery

Middleport Pottery is a timeless Grade II* listed Victorian Pottery located in the heart of Stoke-on-Trent.

Middleport Pottery, owned by the charity Re-Form Heritage, is a heritage visitor attraction located in the heart of Stoke-on-Trent. Situated next to the Trent & Mersey canal, it was built by Burgess & Leigh in the late nineteenth century.

Middleport Pottery is Grade II*-listed and is the UK's last working Victorian potbank in continuous production, and after 130 years it remains the home of world-famous Burleigh Pottery.

Whether it's a corporate team-building activity or a baby shower, a film screening or a graduation party, and everything in-between- we can cater for your vision and provide the perfect space to compliment your occasion!

Additional Activities

Play with Clay

If you're looking for a fun-filled activity to keep you busy, play with clay is your answer! For our self-led play with clay activity you will be provided with a ball of air-dry clay, cutters, stamps, rollers, and more, so let your creativity run wild with what you can create. Due to being air-dry clay, you can take your piece home on the day! We can also arrange for additional balls to be purchasable upon request.

Price: £3 per ball

Pottery Painting

Have a go at painting a piece of pottery at one of the most iconic locations in the history of Stoke-on-Trent's pottery industry, home to the world-famous Burleigh ware.

Choose between using acrylic paints, which enable you to take your piece home with you on the day, or paint a piece of biscuit ware, that will be dipped and fired in our very own kilns, available for collection approximately two weeks later!

Price: £10pp, with a choice of what to paint

Bespoke Options

Talks and Tours

We have a selection of fascinating tours that you are able to partake in when visiting the site. The Factory Tour will lead you through each stage of production in sequence, showing how a lump of clay is transformed into a finished piece of pottery including the unique method of decoration, underglaze 'tissue transfer' - the only place in the world where this technique is still being used. An accessible virtual tour is also available.

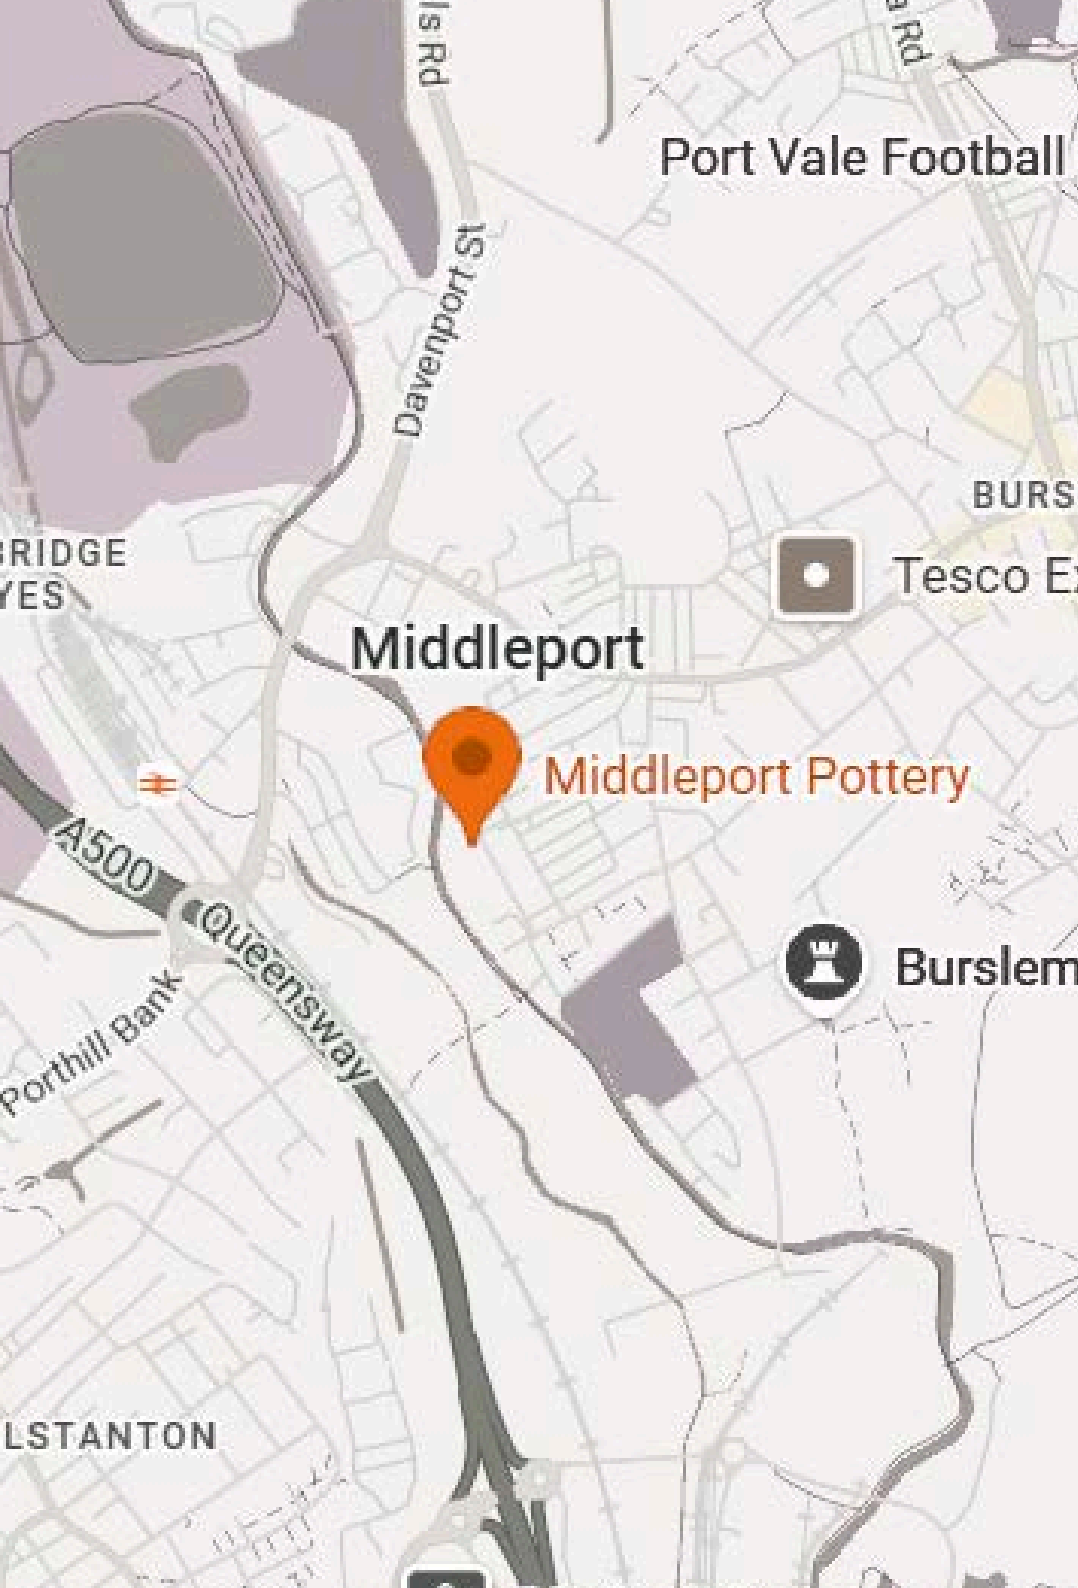

On the self-led heritage trail you get access to The Historic Bottle Kiln, How we lived at Harper Street, "The Duchess" Steam Engine, Europe's largest collection of Moulds along with many more areas!

Travel on 'The Dane'

Travel in style on the historic narrowboat - The Dane. Take a trip through the unique Harecastle Tunnel and experience the eclectic history of Stoke-on-Trent's canal network. We can accommodate groups of up to 12 people.

**Prices will be calculated individually for these options, please discuss this with the Events Coordinator*
